GALE ON THE GULF.

The Gulf Coast Visited by a Destructive Hurricane.

Galveston Island Swept by Wind and Water.

Great Damage Sustained on the Mississippi.

Gales on the Gulf

NEW ORLEANS, October 12.—A special to the Times-Democrat from Mississippi quarantine station says: One of the most terrific and damaging hurricanes since 1860 prevailed in this neighborhood yesterday and last night. For thirty-six consecutive hours the wind blew a regular hurricane from the northeast, driving the water from the bay and destroying the property of the unfortunate inhabitants of this place who had hardly become reconciled to their hard fate in having no orange crop this year, caused by the heavy frost last year. This latter trouble, however, would have been surmounted had it not been for this disastrous storm, which leaves a majority of its most industrious and deserving people almost penniless. This storm, or more properly called a cyclone, was of such violence as to tear away old levees of seven years' standing, carrying destruction to the rice planters. Last night all the inhabitants of this place waded a mile in the water three feet deep to the United States custom house for protection. Dr. Ably, quarantine physician, and his family were driven from their home and forced to seek refuge in the custom house.

Distressing news has been received from the lower coast regarding the effects of last night's storm. Water in the town of Pointe a la Hache in Plaquemine parish, is several feet deep, having been driven in from the gulf. Many persons took refuge in the court house and jail. The water rushed in with such force that it carried everything before it. The levees, which along this section are very low, were overflowed and swept away, and the water rushed into the Mississippi river carrying with it all the rice stacked on farms in the vicinity of Pointe a la Hache and for a distance of 20 miles below. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

NEW ORLEANS, October 12.—The Times-Democrat has the following concerning the storm at Pointe a la Hache: The gale began blowing Sunday evening and increased all day Monday and last night. At Pointe a la Hache and Grand Prairie on the east side of the river the water of the gulf began to back up, spreading over rice fields first and then rising in the front. Men, women and children deserted their homes and fled for safety, some taking refuge in the court house, and some going to Mrs. Hayden Wilson's at the upper end of Union settlement. The water stood five feet in the road behind the levee and broke through it, running into the river in several places. The entire crop of rice in the field has been swept away and destroyed. Here and there a few stacks could be seen on the higher lands, but all the rest are scattered or swept into the Mississippi river. These people have lost most everything they possessed, as the crop was their sole dependence. As far as can be ascertained there was no loss of life. Many small buildings were swept away Monday. At Pointe a la Hache the excitement of the inhabitants was intense, and it was not until the water began falling Tuesday morning that they experienced a sense of relief. The salt water blown in has killed all the grass and vegetables and destroyed straw stacks, which thus leaves stock there without fodder for winter. The grass there was almost their main dependence. Gardens are all gone, and this will curtail the supply of the city somewhat.

The damage has extended over about 35 miles along the east bank of the river, commencing at a point about 40 miles below the city and extending below the quarantine. It was the severest storm experienced in this section since 1860. Large numbers of wild animals such as coons, muskrats, rabbits and other small game were drowned and lodged along the levee. In some places there were numbers of hogs drowned, and chickens were blown entirely across the river. Most of the people living down there are poor rice farmers and have generally ten to fifty acres only in rice. They depend almost entirely upon advances made by their merchants, who will also suffer by the storm. Not much of the rice had been threshed, as the people had been holding on for better prices.

NEW ORLEANS, October 12. The wind was blowing a gale here last night. Despatches from towns on the Mississippi coast report a gale prevailing all day on the Mississippi. The steamer Chalmett, from New York, which arrived yesterday, reported that she came by the inside route along the Florida coast and encountered heavy easterly gales with heavy rains. From Tortugas to Port [illegible] experienced with high irregular seas. On Sunday, October 10 she encountered several hurricanes lasting seven hours, and backing from east to north thence howling to the south. The seas ran high continually, flooding the vessel's decks and also her state rooms, fore and aft. Lake Ponchartrain was filled with water from the gulf, and a gale yesterday from the same direction caused an increase of the lake tide, the water overflowing the marshes in the rear of the city and filling the canal's bank full. A break in the old Basin levee on Broad street was reported at midnight last night. The velocity of the wind was 30 to 40 miles and increasing.

NEW ORLEANS, October 12.—The easterly gale continues. But little damage has been done in the city. The lake and shell roads are submerged, Milenburg and Spanish fort are flooded. At Shell beach the water is a foot deep on the railroad track, and the inhabitants nearly all left for the city last night. The Louisville & Nashville road from Micheaud to Pearl river is inundated and several bad washouts are reported. The company is making efforts to keep the line open. Telegraph wires along this section of road are all down.

GALVESTON, October 12.—The storm which was reported by the signal service as entering the Gulf of Mexico last Saturday night reached Galveston to-day, and at this time (5 p. m.) a furious gale is blowing from the north. Symptoms of the coming storm were apparent last night, and the brisk breeze which set in at an early hour this morning has gradually increased until it is now blowing 40 miles an hour. The tide on the gulf side of the island has been very high ever since Saturday, and the waves were so powerful to-day they washed along the streets for two squares right in the teeth of the gale from the north. This extraordinary tide is undoubtedly due to the hurricane prevailing in the West Indies. The northern gale has done much towards checking the encroachment of the gulf on the island. On the bay side of the city the water is very high and is washing over the docks. Damage to shipping will doubtless be heavy. Half a hundred large steamships and sailing vessels are pounding against the wharves. The water is constantly rising in the bay and encroaching on the city for a square or so, but no danger is apprehended or damage to business property. Two barges from Houston, each laden with 1000 bales of cotton, are being submerged by waves and cotton will be ruined. Along the gulf side waves have torn up the street railway track and submerged several houses. The barometer has fallen 60 points since 7 o'clock this morning, indicating that the storm centre is very near Galveston. Telegraphic communication with the main land will probably be entirely suspended before morning, as the wind seems to increase in velocity every moment. Since sunset the wind has shifted slightly to the west. The storm is now coming from the northwest and blowing fiercely.

MOBILE, October 12. The storm last night was heavy along the coast and vessels were delayed from sailing. The tide rose higher than ever before known. The telegraph office at Ft. Morgan, at the entrance to Mobile bay, was flooded, and the operator reached dry land by swimming. Thirty New Orleans bound passengers are delayed here by washout on the Louisville & Nashville road this side of New Orleans.

GALVESTON, October 12.—The gale has increased in violence, and at this hour (10:30) is blowing from the northwest at the rate of 50 miles per hour. The barometer has ceased falling and it is thought the storm has reached its maximum. Water on the bay side is still rising, but no serious damage to business property is possible so long as the wind holds its northwest course, as it counteracts the strong inflowing tide. The tracks of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad have been washed away, and it is possible daylight will reveal a deal of damage along the wharves.

Evasion of the Restriction Act.

WASHINGTON, October 12. The collector of customs of San Francisco has informed the treasury department of difficulties encountered in the enforcement of the Chinese restriction law. It appears that seven Chinese in transit from New York to Hong Kong and three others from Hong Kong to Honolulu have not yet departed from San Francisco, although they have had ample time. The collector expresses an apprehension that these persons do not intend leaving the country, and that even if they do it is their purpose to fraudulently obtain return certificates in order to establish the right to come and go at will. The collector also calls attention to the practice of federal courts in landing Chinese laborers on writs of habeas corpus and releasing them on bail after the collector has examined into their cases and refused to allow them to land. This practice, he says, is substantially abrogation of the law. Acting Secretary Fairchild has submitted to the collector in reply as follows: "As the competency of customs officers to enforce the restriction act terminates under the law with the landing of Chinese persons, it would seem that the duty to seek a remedy for the evils pointed out by you pertains more especially to the province of the law officers of the government, and you are therefore advised to bring the facts stated by you to the notice of the United States attorneys for the respective districts wherein such facts occur."

Important Errors

WASHINGTON, October 12. Hon. W. W. Wilshire, of Washington, ex-chief justice of the supreme court of Arkansas, and Hon. R. Christy, of Washington, filed to-day with the secretary of the treasury charges to the effect that a list of judgments and decisions filed in the state department by the late court of commissioners of Alabama claims was illegal and deficient; that the list of judgments filed in the treasury department by Hon. J. D. Porter, assistant secretary of state, was not certified as the law requires; that consequently the treasury department was not the possessor of any legal list of judgments on which it had authority to issue drafts, and that all drafts thereon issued were illegal and void. The facts will be inquired into by the supreme court of the district in general term on the 15th inst., upon return of a rule to show cause against Secretary Bayard why a mandamus should not issue compelling him to send a correct list of judgments to the treasury department. Complainants allege that even upon the list as sent by the state department to the treasury important errors have been found which have caused much delay and trouble.

Released from Sing Sing.

NEW YORK, October 12.—The men convicted of boycotting Brewer Theiss, who were pardoned by Governor Hill, were released from Sing Sing prison to-day and reached this city this afternoon. They were escorted by delegations from various workingmen's unions. A parade was to have been gotten up in their honor, but the superintendent of police forbade it. They were however given a reception and banquet and otherwise lionized.

THE POLITICAL FIELD.

Blaine to Assist the Pennsylvania Canvass.

Hewitt Addresses a Meeting of Tariff Reformers.

One of the Boodle Aldermen Turns up in Canada.

Blaine and the Presidency.

PITTSBURG, October 12. At a meeting of republican iron manufacturers and business men to make arrangements for a reception to Blaine October 20, Chairman Jones of the national republican committee declined to serve as chairman of the reception committee, saying that such a step would look as if the demonstration was chiefly for the purpose of booming Blaine for the presidency in '88. He said Blaine was not coming here for personal aggrandizement but to accomplish what he felt satisfied he could do to help the republican party in Pennsylvania. He said it was a question whether Blaine cared to pass through another presidential siege as a candidate, and for his part he was satisfied that he did not though this matter would be made known later.

Tariff Reform.

NEW YORK, October 12.—A meeting in the interest of reform in the tariff was held here this afternoon to consult and decide as to the most judicious steps to be taken to secure the election of representatives to congress and a United States senator who will do their utmost to bring about revision by reducing taxes, tariff levies on American industries and especially import duties on raw material. A resolution was adopted commending the action of those representatives in congress who voted for consideration of the bill to simplify and reduce duties on imports reported by the committee on ways and means at the last session of congress, and empowering the chair to appoint a committee whose duty it shall be to take such action as they may deem expedient to carry out the objects of the meeting and its principles. Abram S. Hewitt addressed the meeting, and at the conclusion of his remarks said that revenue reform was necessary to this city and the whole country, and he was ready to die if necessary in the cause. He concluded: "If you have not revenue reform here look to the democratic party, not to the republicans, to bring it about."

Boodle Aldermen Missing.

NEW YORK, October 12. One of the most unhappy men in town this morning was District Attorney Martine. The story of ex-Alderman Sayles' departure to Canada was a severe blow, and information received this morning that the indicted alderman's bondsman, Sol Sayles, had transferred property pledged in bond of $25,000 for his appearance was the worst news yet. "Candor compels me to say," said the district attorney, "that I have no doubt that Sayles has gone." A Montreal special to the Post says: Exiled boodle men to-day have been showing around three strangers from New York who arrived by last night's train. They are believed to be ex-Alderman Sayles, his brother and ex-Alderman Kirk. They are living at St. Lawrence hall under assumed names.

The Knights' Convention.

RICHMOND, October 12. The Knights of Labor convention met at 10 o'clock and took hold of the business presented with a determination to push it through and at least make an endeavor to bring the sessions to a close within the two weeks allotted. Since adjournment of the assembly Saturday the various committees have been actively engaged in considering matters referred to them. The forenoon session was mainly occupied in receiving reports from these committees and taking action on them.

During the morning session the report of the committee on law was presented. It recommended change of constitution by which the executive board shall consist of the general master workman and six members, no two of whom should be from the same state. This part of the report was adopted. It also recommended that the offices of general secretary and treasurer be divided. No action was taken on this part of the report. Before adjournment it was stated that amendments to the constitution were in order, but owing to the lateness of the hour they were not presented. The assembly at one o'clock adjourned until to-morrow morning.

War Feeling in France.

PARIS, October 12. There is a rapid growth of the war feeling in France. The Boulanger party have begun the issue of two new journals, La Revanche and Le Soldat Laboureur, to advocate an offensive policy in vindication of the old military prestige of France. General Boulanger, however, disowns any connection with the papers. M. Lavedon, the military critic, writes to the Figaro that General Boulanger has prepared a well-conceived plan in conjunction with a staff officer of high rank for a continual campaign. The Militaire says General Boulanger desires war, not for the purpose of recovering Alsace, not to gratify personal ambition, but as a step leading to solution of social questions. The strictest taboo of everything German is being observed. Lockenob, minister of commerce, has ordered the police to prosecute all persons selling boxes of toys imported from Germany and containing a map of France without Alsace.

The Chicago Strike.

CHICAGO, October 12.—The committee from the general assembly of Knights of Labor this morning are having consultations with individual members of the houses, not finding it possible to deal with the committee representing the entire packing house interest. The general situation at the stock yard is unchanged. There were large crowds waiting about the houses this morning, but there was no disturbance. Beef men continue at work and the Armour house is running its pork department with a reduced force. One hundred and ten employes of the Union Stock Yards Transit company quit work this morning. Of these sixty six are section hands and the balance work in the blacksmith shop.

An Important Decision

NEW YORK, October 12.—Judge Wallace of the United States circuit court rendered a decision to-day of much importance to tax payers of New York directly and to the entire country generally. Many millions of dollars are involved. About a year ago the receiver of taxes, Geo. H. McLean, levied a tax upon the shares of national banks. The banks as representing their shareholders resisted the demand of the receiver and obtained an injunction restraining him from collecting the tax. The decision of Judge Wallace is made upon the motion of thirty-five of the banks to have the injunction made permanent. The motion for an injunction is denied.

A. O. U. W.

DENVER, October 12. A Pueblo special to the News says: The select Knights A. O. U. W. of the states of Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico are holding their semi-annual session in Pueblo. Most of them arrived in town last evening and this morning at ten o'clock the meeting was called to order at the hall, corner Sixth and C streets. The usual committees were appointed and after their reports had been received and adopted the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. V. E. Stolebrand was elected grand commander, A. E. Cook vice grand commander, L. Webber grand lieutenant commander, H. T. Boyd recorder, John W. Dly treasurer. The lodge was busily in session all the afternoon and evening. To-night a grand banquet is being held at Brunswick hall.

I. O. G. T.

DENVER, October 12. A Cañon City special to the Tribune-Republican says: The 20th session of the Grand Lodge of I. O. G. T. of the state of Colorado met at 4 p. m. to-day. The meeting was called to order by John Dove, G. C. T., in the chair. Sixty delegates from all parts of the state are in attendance. New members to the number of forty were initiated and the lodge adjourned to attend a public reception tendered by the Cañon City Lodge No. 56 at the McClure house at 7 p. m.

Russia and Bulgaria.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 12. Newspapers of this city are unanimously of the opinion that decisive action by Russia in regard to Bulgaria is imperative. The Journal De St. Petersburg says that events justified Russia in urging the postponement of elections in Bulgaria until the passions of the people had cooled from the late excitement, and adds that it can be readily understood why Russia refuses to recognize or sanction an assembly elected under such a condition of affairs as now exists in Bulgaria.

Hope of a Settlement.

CHICAGO, October 12.—Fifteen hundred stock yard strikers met to-night and listened to a report from their representatives at the conference engaged in attempting to adjust differences. After discussion it was decided to give the executive board of district 57 together with the representatives mentioned full power to arrange a settlement.

Mass Meeting at Denver.

DENVER, October 12. The first mass meeting of the republican campaign in Denver took place at the chamber of commerce to-night. The hall was packed. Speeches were made by Judge Alvin Marsh and D. P. Kingsley. Senator Teller could not address the assemblage as he was suffering from a severe cold and sore throat.

Horse Thieves Captured.

DENVER, October 12.—A Grand Junction special to the Republican says: Deputy Sheriff McArthur returned this afternoon with the two horse thieves in custody who stole the herd of horses from the Uintah agency Indians. All the stock was captured and brought back. The arrests were made without difficulty as the parties were taken completely by surprise.

A Fatal Runaway.

DENVER, October 12. A Breckenridge special to the News says. While Thomas Kenwick, Earnest Smith, A. W. Foltz and Jack Lyons were out riding their team ran away, killing Kenwick and seriously injuring the other three.

Lady Ogilvie Married.

DENVER, October 12. A Greeley special to the Republican says: Lady Maude Ogilvie, daughter of the Countess of Airlie, was married at Trinity Episcopal church, Estes park, this afternoon to Theodore Whyte.

Russian newspapers are angered by the result of the Bulgarian elections and think the time has come to interfere. Kaulbars was not given sufficient time to apply the salve.

Mugwumps have no friend in Private Secretary Lamont, who is said to be the power behind the throne in the present administration. He is quoted as saying "A turncoat is the most obnoxious element in politics," and adds "I despise an ingrate or traitor, whether he is in my party or another."

A dispatch from Munich relates that a man committed suicide there yesterday because an editor had been sentenced to prison for libelling the premier. It would be surprising if sympathy for the poor newspaper man caused the act, but it is much more probable that disgust at Bavarian justice was the reason. He was the premier's father-in-law and knew how impossible it was to defame him.

Judge Wallace of the Second United States circuit believes that national banks are subject to taxation. This has been a question of great importance in New York, and its decision involves millions of dollars. Taxes were levied on the banks, which combined to resist their collection and obtained an injunction restraining the collector. The question arose on a motion to make the injunction permanent, and was decided against the bank.

The Canadians keep up their petty warfare on American fishermen. A vessel was seized on Monday for violation of the customs law which evidently worked no injury to Canadian interests. The object is to force a treaty on the United States. But the fishermen want no treaty of the reciprocity order. This appeared from the investigations of the senatorial committee in Massachusetts. They found everyone interested of one mind. Retaliation was suggested by putting a duty on fish imports from Canada, which would soon make terms easily obtained.

Governor Pierce of Dakota in his annual report renews his recommendation that the territory be admitted into the union. It is not likely that the great injustice to the people of Dakota will continue, even if the house of representatives remains democratic. It has all the necessary qualifications, and more than have been demanded. If the entire territory is admitted it will make the third state of the union in size. Governor Pierce claims that it has a population of five hundred thousand people, which is more than was possessed by eight of the states in 1880. The new state would be entitled to at least two representatives and probably three. The vote for delegate at the last election was about ninety thousand, or seven times as many as Nevada cast for congressman. The proportion was five republican to one democratic. In this fact is found the explanation of the difficulty experienced by this strapping maiden in obtaining recognition by her sisters of the union.

The mayoralty muddle in New York is straightening out under the influence of the administration, which has been exerted to an unusual degree to secure harmony among the democratic factions. The candidacy of Henry George, backed by 50,000 pledges of working men, threatening the hold of the democrats on the city government, made this harmony an imperative necessity. The New York Tribune calls attention to the personal efforts of members of the cabinet. After describing the part taken by Secretary Manning and Private Secretary Lamont, it fits the civil service professions of the administration in the following manner:

"But still further to illustrate the 'reform' policy of this administration and to convince the most sceptical of the sincerity and earnestness with which it is putting into effect its rigorous rule of non-interference in partisan complications the stately and severe secretary of state appeared upon the scene yesterday and busied himself with giving counsel, aid and comfort to those who were toiling to advance the administration's political interests in the city and to compose the factional differences in the party. With Secretary Bayard as a beacon light, what humble subordinate in the civil service can possibly go wrong as he watches with awe struck admiration the way the president's cabinet is devoting itself to national affairs without a thought of influencing the action of democratic office holders and the proceedings of democratic politicians! Secretary Bayard's arrival was followed in a few hours by that of Secretary Whitney, and there were no less than three members of the cabinet in the metropolis yesterday hard at work for the promotion of partisan advantage.

The meek and lowly occupant of some minor federal office cannot fail to be thrilled to the core by the contemplation of these august examples of 'reform.' He is threatened with dismissal if he makes himself offensive as a partisan. He has only to look at the members of the cabinet and the president's private secretary to see with what loyal devotion administration principles are regarded by the administration itself."

Lady Randolph Churchill is quoted by The Pilot as writing recently to a friend at Boston that "In spite of the scientific [illegible] now brought to bear on women we still like admiration, for which I thank unbearing Mother Nature. For what would life be without admiration, flirtation and love? Why should poor human nature, especially its tenderer portion, be worried and worn by this everlasting race after culture display and effect? After all we are nothing but poor mortals and if we become dissatisfied with nature and human nature, as thousands of us are, we shall indeed have to [illegible] edge ours[illegible]. There is, I am sorry to say, a terrible craving after the emotional, while nature's simplicity is forgotten. We are not satisfied with ourselves. Says a Philadelphia Record writer from Washington: "I saw Little Eva—Uncle Tom's Little Eva—here the other day. No, not on the stage—on the street. I have never seen the Little Eva of the stage. The Little Eva of the story, who was after all just a little tale, died, you remember. The Little Eva of real life, on whom the little Eva of the story was modeled, has lived right on until now her hair is turning grey. But she is as lovely and as attractive as ever. She was a Miss Letcher of the famous Virginia-Kentucky family, and married General Kennedy, who was of an equally celebrated Virginia-Kentucky family. General Kennedy owned Louis Clark, the George Harris of the story, who gave Mrs Stowe the points for most of her characters. Old General Kennedy, a delightful man, became Legree in her hands, while Mrs Kennedy was Little Eva and her son was St Clair. Mrs Kennedy's relatives, the Letchers, were portrayed as the Shelbys. Mrs Kennedy laughs merrily at the incongruous treatment accorded her good husband and herself in the process of fictionizing them."

An Interesting Question

WASHINGTON, October 1.—The Pacific National bank cases, which were under argument in the supreme court of the United States to-day, are of interest to a large number of persons, especially in Massachusetts, inasmuch as they involve the question of liability of stockholders in the insolvent Pacific National bank of Boston for amounts of stock subscribed to by them, when [illegible] capital [illegible] from $500,000 to $1,000,000 in September 1881. Appealing stockholders contend that the capital stock of the bank never was validly increased to $1,000,000, that the attempt on the part of the directors and comptroller of the currency in December, 1881, to fix the capital stock at $961,300 was contrary to law and void, and that consequently the shares of the so called new stock on which they are sued never had any legal existence. The court to-day decided against them.

The Dog Paid His [illegible]

BOSTON, Oct 11.

Lovers of dogs will be interested in the following true story. A lady was visiting friends at the seaside, where there was a fine dog whose master was in the habit of giving him money every day to buy meat for his dinner from the butcher's cart. The lady, admiring the handsome, intelligent animal, called him to her as she sat at breakfast and fed him from her plate. The dog at once went to his master, and, standing on his hind legs, pawed and scratched at the gentleman's breast pocket. At first the master failed to understand and ordered him away, but, the creature persisting, he finally said: "Well, I do believe he wants his money," and offered him a coin, which the dog instantly took, and, trotting up to the friendly visitor, deposited it in her lap with a wag of his tail and a look which seemed to say: "I always pay the butcher, and why not you?"

The Wonderful Kellar

[illegible] Kellar, the magician, who is to appear last Saturday evening at the Opera House, [illegible] a native of Erie, Pa., and has been before the public for sixteen years. He is a gentleman of brilliant mental attainments, a fine linguist and one of the best [illegible] in the country. The magician is unmarried, and is bald nevertheless. Mr Kellar has had a wonderful eventful life. He has made two tours of the world, appearing in nearly every country where there is any degree of civilization in the world. The potentates of nearly all the European and Asiatic countries and the emperor of Brazil have been mystified by his feats and he has appeared before people of every nationality in the world.

In 1878 then in Rangoon, Burmah, the magician and his company received an invitation to appear before the king of Mandalay. To make the journey it was necessary to make a river journey up the [illegible] a distance of [illegible] miles, which was done on a steam [illegible]. The voyage was charming, [illegible] passing as it did by scores of temples and pagodas with golden spires of [illegible] shooting up and glistening in the dazzling sunlight. At Mandalay the company was met by a royal escort at the steamer landing, the baggage placed on elephants and the people were likewise mounted and all were taken to the palace of the king. In the outer chamber of the palace they were ordered to remove their shoes, which was done, and after two hours [illegible] they were escorted through [illegible] grand magnificent apartments into a large [illegible] chamber, where a [illegible] had been fitted up. After setting up their properties for a performance [illegible] up at the farther end of the room from the stage, and beyond this the king and [illegible] were seated where they could see and not be seen. All others in the hall, [illegible] nobles and officials, knelt upon the floor with their faces into the floor. [illegible] the court sent word that the performers must [illegible] and only upon explanation that they could not give the performance [illegible] stand, were they allowed to appear on their feet before the king. After the performance the court interpreter told the performers that his majesty was so pleased that he would permit the conjurer to gaze upon his [illegible] face, a delicate honor in that country. A screen was drawn which revealed his majesty reclining upon a silken divan. He talked pleasantly through an interpreter and inquired at the wonders exhibited by the magician. His majesty expressed a desire that Mr Kellar remain as court conjurer and offered him and his assistants a palace for their special entertainment. Kellar informed the king that his friends demanded his return to Europe. The latter then insisted that some of his people be taught the tricks of the magician, but was told that it was impossible. His royal highness insisted that the magician should remain at least [illegible] that he should not be permitted to leave the palace at [illegible] he should be supplied with every comfort and luxury. [illegible] Kellar [illegible] a prisoner in the [illegible] palace [illegible]. He was [illegible] with the great [illegible] and [illegible] by [illegible] the [illegible] who informed him [illegible] trouble unless [illegible] allowed to depart as freely as he came was [illegible] his liberty. A promise [illegible] given and executed [illegible] Mr Kellar's return [illegible] palace [illegible] hostage. Upon departing the king paid the conjurer 7000 rubies and made the party some presents of gold and embroidery [illegible].

While confined as princely prisoners the [illegible] were shown the sacred white elephant, which Mr Kellar says was not nearly so fine a specimen as that exhibited by P T Barnum. The pachyderm was covered with red and gold thread cloth, fed from dishes of silver and gold, and two priests were constantly in attendance upon his wants. The [illegible] to visit Burmah has never been fulfilled, but the fortunes of the unstable throne have been such that the pledge is no longer [illegible]. The cabinet was discovered some time ago by the English in the palace of the [illegible] where it was considered a treasure of great value.

Sportsmen's Club

There was a meeting last night for preliminary organization of the stock company of the Sportsman's Club of Colorado Springs at [illegible] Coburn's office. Judge Coburn, [illegible] Wills, Gwynne, Stevens, [illegible] Gardner, Ehrich, Lucas, Lord, Hayes [illegible] were present. The main object of [illegible] was to discuss, viz. To consider the [illegible] of land suitable for a [illegible] track, polo ground accommodations for the Gun club, tennis club, etc. As [illegible] all the sporting clubs [illegible] together under one head [illegible] the company a [illegible] for their privilege. It was [illegible] to incorporate with a capital of $10[illegible] shares of $50 each. A thousand dollars was subscribed last night and a committee appointed to solicit the balance, and to get [illegible] of an appropriate tract of land [illegible] will be erected for the accommodation of the various clubs as well as for [illegible]. And, in a word, the company [illegible] everything in its power to create for [illegible] what has been so long needed.

Board of Registration

The boards of registration were in session [illegible] yesterday and were busily [illegible] voters. In the First [illegible] were registered, in the Second 124, [illegible] 1-31 and in the Fourth 144. It [illegible] that in the Fourth ward, which casts the heaviest vote, the least number [illegible] were registered yesterday. We would [illegible] all voters to attend personally to the [illegible] of their registration as the judges are [illegible] bound to register none but those qualified

He will probably speak at Canon City, Buena Vista, Denver, Greeley, Fort Collins, Leadville, Pueblo, Trinidad and possibly at Colorado Springs. Mr [illegible] expressed himself as follows: That he had a great many friends at Colorado Springs and had appeared there in public on two occasions, namely at the G A R state encampment two years ago and at the college commencement last year, that he hardly thought it was necessary to appear in the present campaign, but if any of our citizens should wish to hear him, he would try and come.

Hauling Down the Flag

WASHINGTON, October 12.—Advices received at the department of state this morning corroborate the published report of the hauling down of an American flag on the schooner Marion Grimes at Shelburne by Captain Quigley of the Canadian cruiser Terror. The action of the captain of the Grimes in running up his colors while the vessel was in the custody of Canadian officers is deprecated at the department as likely to needlessly complicate the department in its efforts to reach a satisfactory settlement of the fisheries question. It appears that when the United States cutter Corwin seized British sealing vessels in Alaskan waters the first official act of the captors was to haul down the British flag.

Presidential Appointments

WASHINGTON, October 12.—The president made the following appointments to-day: Wm J Maginnis of Ohio to be chief justice of the supreme court of Wyoming; Daniel J Sullivan of [illegible] to be receiver of public moneys at [illegible]; [illegible] well of Tombstone to be agent for Indians of the Lemhi agency in Idaho territory.

Special Delivery

WASHINGTON, October 12.—Col J F B[illegible], superintendent of the free delivery system of the postoffice department, has made his annual report to the postmaster general, from which it appears that the aggregate result of the service for the year as compared with the year 1885 is [illegible]. The excess of postage on local matter over the total cost of service is $232,105.

Woman Suffrage

BOSTON, October 12.—The eighteenth annual meeting of the American Woman Suffrage Association is announced to take place in the hall of the house of representatives in the capitol at Topeka, Kansas, from October 26th to October 28th, inclusive. Many distinguished exponents of the cause are expected to be present.

A Queer Suicide

MUNICH, October 12.—Herr Hu[illegible], the Bavarian premier's father-in-law, after witnessing to-day the trial and sentence of an editor for libelling the premier ran out of the court room and committed suicide by shooting himself. He had been much depressed recently by seeing numerous editors, fathers of families, imprisoned for press offenses.

Manning's Return

WASHINGTON, October 12.—The limited express on the Pennsylvania railroad, which arrived in this city at 9 o'clock to-night from New York, brought Secretaries Bayard and Manning and Treasurer Jordan. Mr Miller, commissioner of internal revenue, and Mr Snyder, deputy comptroller of the currency, boarded the train at Baltimore and accompanied the secretaries to this city.

A Little Surprise

LONDON, October 12.—Stone Clink won the Czarevitch stakes, The Cob second, Eurasian third, eighteen starters.

Stone Clink, a four-year-old colt, against which 50 to 1 were the odds offered by bookmakers, won the Czarevitch handicap to-day, beating a field which contained all the cracks of the past two years. He was in at light weight, carrying but 105 pounds.

Irish Evictions

DUBLIN, October 12.—The regular fortnightly meeting of the National League was held to-day. The receipts since the last meeting were stated to be $2000. Secretary Harrington said that many landlords were making gross reductions in rents, but a large number of writs of eviction continued to be served and executed. The league, Harrington stated, would supersede those branches which failed to give aid to evicted tenants.

Dakota's Demand

WASHINGTON, October 12.—Governor Pierce in his report discusses the subject of the admission of Dakota, which now has 500,000 people, into the union, and adds: "I renew my recommendation most earnestly that this great people be no longer kept from their rightful heritage but be permitted a share and voice in that government they honor by their public spirit and sustain by their industry."

Funeral Arrangements

WASHINGTON, October 12.—The arrangements as finally completed with the Baltimore & Ohio railroad authorities for the transfer of the remains of the late Chief Justice [illegible] to Cincinnati are as follows: The funeral train will consist of the two private cars of President Robert Garrett and Vice President S[illegible], two sleepers and one baggage car. The train will be a special and will precede the regular 3:31 train. President Garrett will accompany the remains on the funeral train to Cincinnati and act as one of the pall bearers.

A Great Farm Sold

LOUISVILLE, October 12.—The sale of the Glenview celebrated stock farm of the late J C McFerran began near this city to-day and was largely attended. The sale comprises the farm and a collection of 175 fine trotters. The farm contains [illegible]471 acres, with two fine residences, splendid stables, training track and orchards, and is conceded by all to be one of the very finest farms in America. The farm was knocked down and sold to J I Case for $118.50 per acre. He stated that he had bought it in partnership with S H Wheeler, of Chicago, and that he would run the farm on the same plan as it was before.

Misplaced Confidence

[illegible], October 1[illegible].—[illegible] Huntley, a lawyer, justice of the peace, Sunday school superintendent and leader in good works generally and in possession of the confidence of the entire community appears to have gone wrong. Some time ago Frederick Wild Ricks, a New York builder, placed in Huntley's hands for safe keeping about $1,600 worth of negotiable documents. Wild Ricks now claims Huntley has negotiated $400 worth of the papers. It appears also Huntley has got into debt to the amount of several thousand dollars, and to-day one of these creditors attached Huntley's property.

The Markets

NEW YORK, October 12.—Government bonds strong. Stocks inactive and majority of them lower. The news of the day was almost entirely of an unfavorable character, and the dullness in the formation of the pool at Chicago also served to depress values and continued to the close. Work in the money market was also a factor in the decline. Pacific Mail was again a leading weak stock, and stories of a suit by the Panama railroad company against the Pacific Mail and rumors of an intention on the part of the former to refuse freight from the latter were used with effect. New England was conspicuously strong and again shows a handsome advance. Several stories were circulated with regard to the property with more or less effect. Prices at the opening were somewhat irregular but generally lower, declines ranging from ⅛ to [illegible], but New York and New England was 1 per cent higher. Later the market was marked by considerable dullness and narrow fluctuations, prices making little progress in either direction until the last hour, when a general decline took place which was checked just previous to the close, but it closed weak at the lowest figures of the day.

Mining shares were dull and strong. Horn Silver sold at 1 75, Mono 2 00, Bulwer 1 35, Bodie 2 60 to 2 75, California and Virginia 2 05.

The Boodlers Fall

NEW YORK, October 12.—At half past one o'clock this afternoon Inspector Byrnes received a bulky package from the district attorney. It contained an order from the district attorney accompanied by bench warrants for the arrest of all the "boodle" aldermen board of 1884 except for Henry L Sayles, whose flight to Canada has inspired the crusade, the prosecution of which was thus placed in [illegible] of Inspector Byrnes. [illegible] for the boodlers to plead [illegible] an increase in amount of bail [illegible] $40,000 [illegible] Kirk [illegible] voluntarily [illegible] at one gave bail and went away. [illegible] Miller, Cleary, McQuade and McCabe. Of these Cleary, [illegible] and McQuade secured additional bail during the early evening. Farley and Miller were unable to furnish the required security and were locked in the Tombs for the night. Later on Aldermen [illegible], O'Neil and Kelly were arrested and locked up. Thus far nine have been rearrested and disposed of as stated, and there yet remain to be arrested or reported Duffey, Fink, Fullgraff and Wendel. The case of the absent Sayles has been placed on the calendar for to-morrow.

Labor Information

RICHMOND, Va, October 12.—There was a meeting this afternoon of editors of labor papers and other newspaper men who are delegates to the convention. Frank K Foster, of Haverhill, Mass, was elected chairman and Albert Pine, of Hartford, Conn, secretary. The object of the organization is the formation of a labor news bureau through which information with regard to labor matters can be transmitted to the country. Every member of the organization will furnish every other member with all the news that he obtains. This bureau will interfere in no way with the establishment of the labor journal proposed by A M Dewey, which it is understood a majority of the convention favor. A special committee appointed to consider the expediency of establishing such a paper has not expressed its views. It asserts the necessity of such a medium of communication. Representatives of machinists and blacksmiths in the convention also held a meeting for the purpose of establishing a bureau through which information regarding their trades may be distributed. Miners held a meeting and will submit a plan to the convention for the better organization of miners throughout the United States. Trade workers were together to devise a plan by which the exact condition of their business may be communicated to one another.

Hon. G. G. Symes, Colorado's congressman, and a candidate for re-election on the republican ticket, came down from Denver on the Thunderbolt yesterday afternoon and registered at The Antlers.

There will be a meeting of Company A next week to elect a second lieutenant in place of Mr. George B. Southcotte who was recently elected first lieutenant. The meeting will probably be held next Tuesday evening.

Seats for the Kellar engagement at the opera house Saturday evening will be placed on sale at Bell's drug store this morning. There will be no advance over the regular prices of admission.

The board of judges in the Second ward is quite evenly divided, there being one democrat, one republican and one prohibitionist. The prohibitionists have representatives on all the boards except that of the First ward.

Work will soon be commenced upon the new county road running from Templeton's Gap to Eastonville. The road will probably be about sixty feet wide, and will shorten considerably the distance from this city to Eastonville.

Last Saturday City Marshal William Saxton had his cow shot, though not fatally. The person doing the shooting being known summonses were served on him to answer to the complaint of shooting within the city limits contrary to the ordinance.

President Charles E. Perkins of the C., B. & Q. railroad with a party of friends will arrive in Colorado Springs this morning in a special train over the D. & R. G. railroad. Hutchinson, Williams & Co. furnish the party with conveyances, and they will visit all the points of interest in this vicinity.

The funeral services of Mr. Frank P. Lombard will be held at the family residence to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The relatives and friends of the family are invited. Interment will probably be at Evergreen cemetery. The services will be conducted according to the ritual of the Masonic order of which the deceased was a member.

In connection with the statement concerning Grace Church association free reading room made in yesterday's GAZETTE, it should be further said that $20 were contributed by a lady of this city for the purchase of the Bancroft books and the remainder of the Encyclopedia Britannica beginning with volume eighteen in addition to the $210 contributed by The Antlers guests.

The firm of Foskett & Loveland has been dissolved. Mr. Foskett has disposed of his interest in the firm to Mr. C. S. Older, and the name of the firm will hereafter be Loveland & Older. Both of these gentlemen are experienced in their line of business, and the reputation of the old firm for fair dealing and satisfactory goods will be fully maintained under the new management.

Mr. Charles E. Aiken, who perhaps more than any one individual in this community has done more to advertise Colorado by the sale of native curiosities, in the way of stones, furs, etc., has just received a large invoice of furs from the celebrated firm of J. F. Perlolat & Co. of Chicago. They are without any exaggeration the finest which have ever been placed on sale here, and should meet with ready demand.

In our columns of to-day's issue appears a statement of the condition of the First National bank at the close of business October 7th. This report is made in accordance with the request of the secretary of the treasury that all national banks throughout the country should publish and file a statement of their condition and business on the above named date. Since the last statement of the bank was published, August 27th, there has been a marked increase in the volume of business transacted. The deposits have increased about $116,000 and the loans and discounts about $39,000. These figures should prove conclusively that the present management of this banking institution has an eye to business and that they have already obtained the confidence of the community in their ability to direct and control the operation of such an institution.

Hon. Alva Adams, democratic candidate for governor, was in the city yesterday calling on his many friends. Mr. Adams was at one time a resident of Colorado Springs and says that he built the first house on the present site of the town in 1871. Regarding his chances of election Mr. Adams declined to express any opinion, but confidently asserted that Rev. M. W. Reed candidate for congress would carry Arapahoe county by a large majority. He furthermore stated that he would make no speeches during the present campaign, as two years ago he made a thorough canvass of the state, and is well known in every section. Mr. Adams left for Denver on the Salt Lake express last evening where he goes to confer with the democratic state central committee, the headquarters of which are located at the Markham hotel, Denver.

You should now be thoroughly convinced that, Fairley Bros. is the cheapest place in Colorado to buy furniture, the above prices being no specialty with us the same having been steadily maintained throughout the season, and not a reduction of from 25 to 50 per cent.

Three car loads more furniture just received at Fairley Bros.'—making our stock for the fall trade very complete. Some of the latest styles in Parlor Suites and finer than ever before seen in this city, on all of which we guarantee the lowest prices.
